Explore Arts at Carclew

Aspiring young visual and animation artists will have the chance to discover a range of artistic experiences over the July school holidays as part of Explore Arts, a program of workshops presented by Carclew.

Explore Arts is offering workshops in a range of visual arts, traditional cultural arts, and 3D modelling and printing, for young people aged 5-17.

Autumn workshops will take place 9am-5pm daily, from Tuesday 9 to Friday 19 July, accommodating early drop-off and late pick-up.

"Carclew presents an inspiring program of artistic workshops to enlighten and support the creative talents of young South Australians," said Leah Fort, Carclew's Community Project Officer.

Featuring in the July program is a full day introduction to professional DJing, a hands-on crash course in using the latest DJ technology and software with the opportunity to dabble in music production.

For aspiring visual artists, explore the art of mosaic and jewellery making, or channel Sidney Nolan and draw inspiration from his Ned Kelly series of paintings to create a unique work of art.

"Explore Arts workshops are presented by professional artists who provide all participants with a deep learning and creative experience," said Leah.

"Workshops continue to be in great demand and last holidays was no exception with most selling out. We suggest booking as soon as possible."
